

CHAPTER THREE

RESEARCH METHOD

A. Type of Research

The type of this research is an empirical legal research with the Indonesian law approach.¹ The source is from secondary data taken from literature: journals, books, etc.

The purpose of empirical legal research means that research using empirical fact is obtaining through interviews and real behavior performed through direct observation.

B. Type of Data

The data used in this research were primary and secondary data. The primary data were obtained from an interview some respondent. The writer conducted interviews to some respondent involved directly in the area of sharia cooperative in Yogyakarta. The secondary data consist of primary legal material, secondary legal material, and tertiary legal material. The detail data will explain as follows:

1. Primary legal material consists of regulations as follows:
 - a. 1945 Constitution;
 - b. Law No. 25 of 1992;
 - c. Ministerial Regulation of Small and Medium Enterprise Ministry No.91/PER/M.KUKM/XII/2004
 - d. Interview; and
 - e. Other regulations related to the material.
2. Secondary legal material consists of several documents that related to the primary legal materials as follows:

¹ Johnny Ibrahim, 2006, Teori dan Metodologi Penelitian Hukum Normatif, Malang: Bayu Media, page 302.

- a. Books;
 - b. Scientific journals;
 - c. Other legal documents related to the issue;
 - d. Trusted sites internet; and
 - e. Other non-legal documents related to this research.
3. Tertiary legal material, as follows:
- a. Black's law dictionary;
 - b. English dictionary; and
 - c. Indonesian dictionary.

C. Data Collection

The method of collecting data in this research was through library research by literature learning. The data were taken from reading, analyzing and making a conclusion from related documents such as convention, covenant, law books, legal journals, books and others related to the main problem as the object of this research and also the data taken by interviewing some respondent who capable with this research.

D. Data Analysis

The data were analyzed systematically through a descriptive qualitative approach. Systematically means the data were analysed on the basis of Constitution, legislation, and other theories which are related to the issue on supervision of Sharia Cooperative by Sharia Supervisory Board and Small and Medium Enterprise Service.